Subject: Recommendation letter for Think through BV & Paul van den Biggelaar

To whom it may concern,

Paul was hired In 2009 by evolvision to try & direct our innovative business in the right direction.

In that time, evolvision have faced some hard times, having to deal with bad sales funnel, a worldwide economic crisis, followed by creditors demands, & lack of funding for further development.

In addition our business was suffering from lack of staff and right management.

Paul came through as a unique individual who understands our business, technology, and situation and immediately offered his services & to our surprise he showed his results by a professional approach to try & solve all open cases, including the restructuring of the business.

He came through in all of his promises:

- Stayed truthful & honest to the original contract.
- Real help to our sales & development questions while profoundly understanding our markets & possible past mistakes to take care by asking us & our dealers the right questions.
- Offering new & innovative solutions to long unsolved problems.
- Creating scenarios Presentations to understand where we stand and what are the possibilities in a clear visual way.
- Creating business plans, presentations which were always precise, summarized & very professional looking.
- Creating a real world plan for repaying debts incl. handling our creditors personally, this resulted in the minimization of our debts by 75%!

From a personal level I recommend Paul,

He is a great asset to any company\ entrepreneur \ startup company especially from a technical innovation field.

With strong understanding of business, strategies & the market itself Paul functioned perfectly as our interim management & valuable advisor.

While our company has now reached its end, Paul got the most out of the grim situation we were in, and most importantly helped us make all the right decisions without hesitation. His friendly communication, valuable insights, and fast responses have left their mark on us.
